Happy 50th Birthday Placentia!

PLACENTIA'S BICENTENNIAL MAYOR is His Honor Mayor George De Jesus, a naturalized citizen and native of Trinidad, British West Indies. He was born there in 1927 and emigrated to the United States in 1948. He is construction manager for Petrolane Properties, Inc., which builds shopping centers for Stater Brothers Markets. Married to Angela for 27 years, the couple has six children.

BY BETTY MEAD

The City of Placentia will pass its fiftieth milestone Thursday and is resplendent at being in the prime of its life!

From a verdant, green tropical forest of oranges, it has become a haven for more than 10,000 families who now eat, sleep and live here.

With a population of 31,281 living within its borders, there are many Placentians around who can recall that the eye-catching, evergreen orange groves were the attractive magnet that enticed them here in the first place...only to see the orderly rows of orange groves pushed out by the orderly rows of homes.

Red tile and shake roofs are a now more familiar sight than the welcoming trees.

But the city, withstanding minor skirmishes within its seven square miles is still bragged about as "The Pleasant Place To Live."

The Golden Age of 50 has caught the fancy of Placentians who are expected to attend a number of events in commemoration of the city's fiftieth birthday.

Date of the hardfought corporation, Tuesday, November 23, 1926, passed without any particular notice with busy Placentians, many of whom leave the city to seek their livlihoods.

But everything else is expected to be celebrated in proper style.

The date of incorporation, December 2 is expected to find the official Placentia family presiding over the burying of a Time Capsule, containing a number of items of interest to future Placentians when it is dug up fifty years from now.

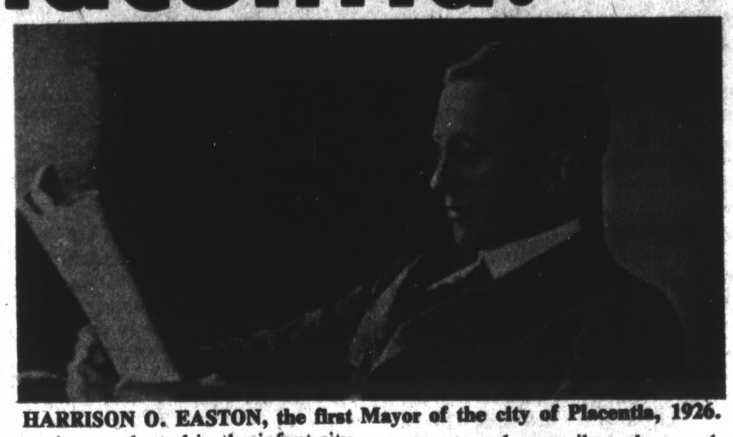
This event will take place at the site of the Bradford House, already the scene of the good intentions of a number of veteran and newcomer Placentians.

The Bradford House was the home of the founder of the City of Placentia, Albert Sumner Bradford and was given to the city by Bradford's heirs.

It has become an ironic discussion through the Bicentennial Year that the house may be torn down. But the structure, built in 1904, is still standing for the city's 50th birthday.

The Time Capsule ceremony is scheduled for 10 a.m., Thursday, December 2.

A special council meeting will be held Tuesday night, December 7, commemorating the first such session conducted in the infant city fifty years ago.



HARRISON O. EASTON, the first Mayor of the city of Placentia, 1926.

This meeting, which the residents of the city are urged to attend, will open at 7:30 p.m. in the Council Chambers of the new Civic Center.

American Legion Post No. 277 will post colors; the program will include a presentation of Placentia's winning the All America City title...the first city in Orange County to do so and refreshments will be served by the Placentia Round Table, which began in the city in 1902.

Special guests will be former mayors and councilmembers, who will be given appropriate awards.

Presiding over the meeting will be Mayor George De Jesus, a naturalized citizen and a native of Trinidad in the British West Indies where he was born in 1927.

The construction manager for shopping centers to house a large market chain, Stater Brothers, Mayor De Jesus is involved with the food industry as was the city's first mayor, Harrison O. Easton. Easton was an official in Placentia's orange packing industry, the city's

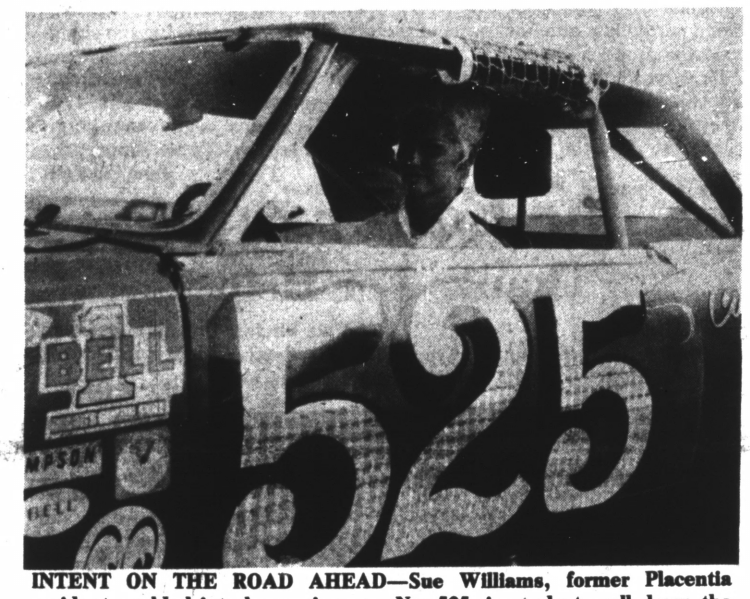
Sue Williams Challenges Danger...Men



INTENT ON THE ROAD AHEAD—Sue Williams, former Placentia resident, welded into her racing car, No. 525, is ready to roll down the Speedway. Sue, a trophy winner, is the first woman member of NASCAR.

By Betty Mead

The man who invented the wheel...those tens of centuries ago...may have had pert, petite Sue Williams in mind.

For pretty Sue Williams, who has been affectionately pet-named Sweet Sue by race track announcers is seldom happier than when seated atop four of those wheel contraptions with a fifth one held firmly in her capable hands.

Sweet Sue, a Placentia resident until six months ago when she and husband Dave and their two children moved to Norco, is something very special and unique in local stock car racing circles.

How does a five-foot-five, 120 pound mother of two youngsters become the first woman in southern California and possibly in the United States to go stock car racing in competition with the men? The answer is contained within Sue, a native of Anaheim, California, who somehow found her naturally sports-loving competitive spirit led down the local Speedways.

"This has to be the high point of my life," Sue Williams, who is just entering her 30th year, explains about racing. "I love sports. I love the family life and having children but when we (with husband Dave) got into racing and I started driving this car, it had to be the high point of my life.

"It's very exciting and very rewarding!"

This saga of the race tracks began at high school in Anaheims where Dave Williams met Susan Elliott. Sue by that time was very interested and involved in sports, Dave in anything that ran on wheels.

Dave Williams built a car before he knew how to drive. He raced when he was 15 in a hopped up Model A Ford at 90 miles an hour on the quarter mile. He's been building, rebuilding, or restoring cars ever since.

Sue, after her marriage to Dave ten years ago, eventually became a one woman pit crew. Dave was racing stock cars in 1971. In 1972 Sue was allowed in the pits, the first woman ever to be granted membership in the National Association of Stock Car Auto Races (NASCAR).

"By the end of that year," Sue recalls, "I had been bugging Dave all season that I sure would like to get into the car."

The last two races of 1972, after she had been allowed to hot lap the car for 13 weeks first, Sue ran her first races.

She recalls she wasn't frightened at the prospect. "I wanted to do it so bad. I loved it."

It took several pillows and a lot of padding to get Sue up close enough to the controls of Dave's 1967 special Chevy before he rebuilt it especially for her.

At least one race track has a school

Fire Protection May Cost More

Placentia's bill for fire service in 1977-78 could be as low as $664,047 or as high as $813,743 if the city elects to stay with Orange County fire service another year, it was indicated this week.

The difference in the amounts would be dependent on possible wage increases and curtailment in hours to a 72-hour work week.

County firemen, servicing the city of Placentia, now work on an 84-hour -week.

The figures are contained in a report from Fire Chief Carl Downs, authorized by the Orange County Board of Supervisors and sent to the Placentia City Council.

Placentia councilmen will decide in the immedidate future if they will remain in the county service or return to their own locally-operated department. The local department was dissolved a year ago following stormy months of unrest and union activities within the local group.

Chief Downs explained that factors affecting the cost could be an increase in wages as high as 7½ per cent and the cut in working hours down to 72 duty hours a week.

Equipment involved in the contract includes a four-man engine company, a three-man engine company; a paramedic unit and aerial truck shared with Yorba Linda.

Placentia's current contract with the county is for $642.753.

Orange Changes Airport Position

The battle over a proposed study which would include the Chino Hills as an airport site continues to rage but, according to Yorba Linda Mayor Henry Wedaa, a recent skirmish resulted in a "significant step backwards."

Wedaa was commenting on the action by the City of Orange where the City Council rescinded a resolution favoring the Inter-County Airport Authority (ICAA) fund request for the study.

Further, Orange went along with a Wedaa suggestion that the city join in a regional study advocated by the Los Angeles Department of Airports that has the support of the Orange County Board of Supervisors.

ICAA representatives from two of the sponsoring cities, Garden Grove and Stanton, were at the Orange council session. Their protestations went unheeded as they claimed that the ICAA study was regional in scope and would consider several potential airport sites.

Wedaa argued this point, terming the ICAA plan "narrow" and insisted that an airport in Chino Hills would "create havoc over North Orange County cities."

In support of this view, the Yorba Linda mayor said that because of the flight patterns from Ontario Airport, planes departing from Chino Hills would have to turn left and fly over Orange and other cities.

Wedaa said he was "very pleased that the Orange City Council was willing to listen to our arguments and withdraw its support of the ICAA and to give support to the Los Angeles regional study."

Additional talks will be held with other cities that have given support to ICAA in an attempt to get them to change their position, Wedaa revealed.

The ICAA has been trying to get federal funds of several thousand dollars to make its study under the Airport and Airways Development Act.

Supporters, which include Chino and Santa Ana, have had previous attempts to move forward on Chino Hills thwarted. Presently, the group claims it is not associated with any former groups.

Filing Opens Soon For Schools, Library

Candidates for the board of trustees election in the Placentia Unified School District must file their intentions with the Orange County Registrar of Voters between Dec. 9 and 30 to get their names on the March 8 ballot.

Two of the board's five seats are open for the election. Citizens currently filling the seats are board president John Press and vice president John Balducci. Their terms expire March 31, 1977.

Other members of the board are Mrs. A. P. Pappas, Dr. William Yates, and Salvador Zavala, whose terms expire in 1979.

The district board of trustees meets the second and fourth Mondays of each month and is responsible for setting policy for the district.

Also on the March ballot will be two of five posts for the Placentia Library District Board of Trustees.

Incumbents are Irene Czaplinski and Alfred Aguirre.

Council Approves Staff Raises

A payout of more than $275,000 in wages for eleven members of City Hall management staff, was authorized at a recent meeting of the City Council as the last agenda item on a marathon meeting that stretched more than five hours.

Three members of the public were still on hand to participate in the brief discussion on the item.

The authorization approved a six per cent raise for City Administrator Edwin Powell, boosting his salary to $39,000 a year, plus extensive benefits.

Other salary raises listed in the resolution and estimated total salaries include Police Chief Norman Traub ($29,830.92); Director of Community Development Ben Minamide ($28,574.16); Director of Finance Frank Dunnavant ($28,265.52): Director of Community and Industrial Resources James Buchner ($23,922.12); Director of Planning Arnold Hamala ($21,533.52).

Also Chief Building Official Victor Newton ($19,549.08); Purchasing Agent James Park ($24,120.60); Personnel Director Lee Sale ($24,340.92); Assistant to City Administrator John Slota ($19,549.08) and newly appointed Social Services Director, Jeffery Nimeshein, starting on the fourth wage scale step at $18,012.

Management personnel also receive step raises from A through E as they earn them, resulting in a double raise system along with the negotiated one.

The city council resolution at the meeting approved an additional $11,755 to be taken from the city's

Sue Williams . . . Stock Car Racer

for such people as ambulance drivers to teach them what to do when they spin out in the rain, but Sue has not attended. She's a hands-on student.

Sue, who has raced at Speedway 605 Irwindale, the Orange Show in San Bernardino, at Ontario, and now at Saugus, is, as far as she knows, the only woman to compete with the men in their races and in her own car. Women drivers usually take part in Powder Puff Derbies without the men, she explains.

Her demanding hobby requires speeds between 110 and 115 miles per hour on a half-mile track straightaway, slowing to 90 then 75 around turns. It takes 22 seconds to make one complete lap around a half-mile track, sixteen seconds around a quarter mile.

At Orange Show, for example, the track is two cars wide. "If there's anybody else there, it's a wreck," Sue points out. "And there's only one really good racing groove. There's a solid wall on one side and telephone poles on the other. In case of trouble you either hit the wall or go over the telephone poles."

Sue should know. She's come close to doing both.

"When you're in a race, things are happening so fast...you're totally concentrating on what you're doing," Sue explains. 'I've been very lucky. I've always been able to get around the wrecks when they (observers) figured there was no way but for me to end up in it. Somehow, instinctively I find a hole and make it through."

"If you have to stop and think 'where am I going to go'...it's too late. You have to do it and it comes out right or you don't make it."

Sue vividly recalls one race. "I had come out of a turn and started to pass a car and he lost control and the back end of his car came up and hit the wall.

"I swerved the car around and I'm praying I'll make it and I did make it."

The spun-out car hit her car and whirled her around. "But instead of hitting the wall head on, my car returned," she remembers. "I backed the car all the way down the wall, the full length of the track. There is an opening. I backed the car through the opening and off the track."

"None of the cars coming by hit me. That could have been one of the worst."

On another occasion Sue recalls: "One night I got sideways on the track and a guy hit me and I went over the telephone poles at the edge of the track to keep the cars off the grass. I went over backwards. The whole car went up and over. I went out and finished the race. People thought it would scare me so bad I would never come back."

Both Dave's and Sue's parents live in Placentia. Sue's Dad, Orveal Elliott, may have had some influence on her jaunty spirit. He used to drag race speed boats.

"I got some of it from him," Sue estimates. "He had the very first boat that was both super charged and had fuel injection. The very first."

Dave's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Williams, own and operate a sporting goods store. They are used to son David's interest in things that move on wheels and his drive to create them.

Dave, while living in Placentia, hand built a modern version of a key-cab beer truck, (1915 vintage) which is still seen on Placentia streets when the Dave Williams come to town to visit.

The truck, boasting $1,000 in wood alone, is a unique thing of beauty and was the subject of a color spread of pictures and story in the national magazine "Street Rodder."

He also has some unusual restored automobiles of ancient vintage which he is not too eager to talk about "because people try to buy them."

Sue, who has won a number of trophies with her expertise behind the wheel, is now a featured driver at the Saugus one-third mile track and will return next season. Round trips just to get there from her present home in Norco cover 180 miles for the Saturday events.

Husband Dave, who explains that his hobby "is keeping her hobby running" is Sue's staunchest supporter.

"I thought her whole racing career would last two or three months," Dave recalls. "But I was wrong. Actually I worry about her more going down the freeway with the kids in the car. Most of the people on the race track are professional drivers."

Dave also points out that Sue's racing career would not be possible without her numerous sponsors who help pick up the tab. Some of these include Action Engineering, Rialto; Strout Machine Works, San Bernardino; City Motor Parts, La Puente; Lou Equipment Company, Santa Fe Springs; Sissell Racing Heads, El Monte; and the Anaheim-Fullerton Auto Wreckage.

And Sue, who is the star of it all.

AN UNUSUAL AUTOMOBILE, a hand-crafted Dave Williams version of a 1915 beer or milk truck. Dave, who has built cars most of his life, has the first one in mothballs, ready for son Robbie, when he is old enough to assemble and drive it. Also in the picture are wife, Sue and daughter Tracy. The youngsters were students at Golden Elementary School in Placentia when this picture was taken.

Town Hall Session Meets Here

No growth, limited growth and uncontrolled growth of Orange County and the affect of each on the environment and the economy, will be discussed at a special Town Hall Meeting to be held in the Council Chambers of Placentia City Hall on Monday, December 6. The public is urged to attend.

The meeting, running from 7 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. will be conducted by the Orange County Sanitation Districts and the United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA).

An announcement for the meeting and similar ones to be held in Huntinton Beach and Fountain Valley reports that an Environmental Impact Statement will be discussed.

"We need to determine public attitudes on issues which will have a bearing on the size of wastewater treatment facilities for future growth in the districts," it was explained.

Issues listed in the announcement include clean water, clean air, energy, marine environment, population growth, industrial growth, water reclamation, solids disposal and additional sewer taxes and charges.

Management Raises OKed

general funds to cover the negotiated raises and additional insurance benefits. That amount will cover raises for the eleven individuals for a nine-months period.

This brings the total raise package for the city's estimated 135 employees to roughly $109,931 for the nine month's period.

The City Hall overall pay package for the present fiscal year is roughly $3 million from a $6.5 million budget.

The resolution for the six per cent increase was unanimously passed by council.

Merry Christmas!

Placentia and Yorba Linda Bank of America customers have been saving all year for the Christmas package they received this week...$257,123.

With over a month left in which to spend it, Christmas Club members were returned their Christmas stocking money they have been hiding away in the bank over the past year.

Christmas will be merry in Placentia, according to the announcement for 556 customers who are receiving $157,876 between them. In Yorba Linda, $99,247 is being returned to 295 accounts.

County wide the Christmas checks total $5,613,620 for 19,955 county residents, the bank reports. And the Christmas bounty statewide amounts to a record $107.9 million this year for 339,182 savers.

Last year's Christmas Club payments in Orange County were $5,295,675 to 19,824 accounts.

Merry Christmas!

Opinion

Where do your tax dollars go? Property taxes go for a variety of things, which are largely itemized on your tax bill, at least to the extent that you can read the general catagories. Harder taxes to follow are state and federal income taxes and sales tax, the latter being the one over which the taxpayer

While property taxes are assessed on property and income taxes paid on basic earnings, many items are exempt from sales tax, and one sixth of that returned to the city in which the tax was collected. That may not sound like much, but it amounted to $158,730 in Placentia for the second quarter of this year. In selecting the stores in which you spend you money, you chose the city which will enjoy your tax money. The money goes to the state and then is returned to the city for its use.

When city hall has less revenue than it deems necessary for providing the chosen level of services, it raises the property tax and we all pay. When we spend our dollars at home, some of the taxes stay with us easing the city's need for property taxes.

Do we really need to put our tax dollars into other cities? Not too often. Let's all join forces and keep our dollars working for our parks, streets, and other facilities and services. The Chamber of Commerce urges you to shop locally. So does the Placentia Courier. This is home; let's all support it.

On behalf of the entire Aztec football team, the coaching staff and all of the other adult help, I would like to thank everyone for the tremendous support you gave us last Wednesday night at Brea.

This tremendous support then, and throughout the year, contributed a great deal toward the success of this team. We all felt it and we all feel that this gave the team that extra little something that brought us victory.

It is our hope that you will continue this wonderful support into the Orange Bowl to help us bring the Conference championship back to Placentia-Yorba Linda Pop Warner.

Again, thank you so much and we'll see you at the Orange Bowl.

Suggestions For Post Office

Copy To The Courier

Al Lopas, Postmaster
Placentia,

Dear Sir:

To alleviate part of the traffic problem in the customer parking lot at the Placentia Post Office, I suggest removing the collection boxes with chutes from their present location and placing them on both sides of Angelina at the back of the Post Office property. The present box placed on Angelina may not now be popular as one must alight from one's car to post a letter there.

The optimum arrangement, in my opinion, would be a "turn-in" driveway on the Post Office property itself, allowing placement of the chuted collection boxes on the driver's side of the vehicle. For the east side of Angelina a chuted box would allow northbound vehicles access from the passenger's side.

The present conditions are awkward and most hazardous---certainly meriting your time and attention to improve the situation.

Very truly yours,
Juanita Warren,
Placentia

Warning Beacon Needed

Copy To The Courier

Supervisor Ralph Diedrich
Orange County Board of Supervisors
Santa Ana

Dear Sir:

You may recall that, after no small amount of persuasion by our Wagner Traffic Safety Committee and other interested parties, the city of Placentia and Orange County reached an agreement this past summer to relocate a school crosswalk and guard from Hamer Lane to Kilt Avenue on Yorba Linda Boulevard (in Placentia). The parents of children living south and southwest of Wagner School are very appreciative of the increased safety provided for our children by this move. However, this answered only part of our requests.

We are asking for your assistance in persuading the other County Supervisors and Orange County Traffic Safety Committee to be as sympathetic to our needs as you have been in the past. We continue to be concerned over the need for flashing yellow beacons (during the time children are present) to and from school to slow the very heavy and fast-moving traffic along Yorba Linda Boulevard.

According to the Placentia City Engineer's Report No. 76-0062 of June 8, 1976, "The County Safety Committee agreed with the relocation of the guard but did not feel the flashing beacons were necessary.!!!!! The city of Placentia Traffic Safety Committee recommended the placement of flashing beacon lights. Mr. Robert Voien, Secretary of the Orange County Traffic Committee, in a letter dated March 22, 1976, to Mr. Warren Siecke, City Traffic Engineer, in referring to the same crosswalk stated, "Based on vehicle volumes and pedestrian counts, the warrant for yellow flashers was satisfied."

You see, everyone who has studied the traffic and pedestrian movements agrees that we are justified in placing the flashing lights at the corsswalk---but, the County Traffic Safety Committee has thus far been unwilling to feel it is necessary and are unwilling to share the costs. The City of Placentia has agreed to pay an equitable share for these beacons. This hardly seems equitable when one recalls that a large percentage of the children who use this crosswalk live in a County-serviced unincorporated area.

You will find enclosed signatures of all concerned citizens with and without children going to Wagner School using the cross-walk at Kilt Avenue and Yorba Linda Boulevard. Also it should be noted that many are citizens in County territory.

Also another suggestion I would recommend to County Traffic Safety Committee that they talk with the Crossing Guard, Mrs. Champion, and get her feelings regarding the speed of vehicles, traffic flow, the need for flashing beacons.

As a final note, I have spoken with the Principal of Wagner, Mr. Ken Lorge, and he has observed the situation and is in total agreement that the flashing beacons are needed.

Will you please give this your immediate attention and give us your active support?

Sincerely
Joan L. Sammons

Committee Wagner School PTA

P.S. If you have any further questions or information I can help with please do not hesitate to call. Would you please let me know personally when this item will again be on the agenda. Just a side note, there have been many hours, weeks, days, months (10 approximately) already invested.

[Editor's Note: Petitions with 230 signatures are enclosed with the above letter].

Mayor Supports Plea

Honorable Ralph A. Diedrich
Chairman, Board of Supervisors
County of Orange
Santa Ana,

Dear Ralph:

Thank you for your efforts in trying to return my call. I was hoping to speak with you regarding a resident's anxiety in the Wagner School area which adjoins the County Island, regarding traffic safety. The attached letter of Mrs. John Sammons-Frances Pierce is self explanatory.

I recognize that twice in the near recent past the County Traffic Committee has considered this item and found against justifying the need for flashing yellow lights and do not question the expertise, but under the circumstances would hope that you would give this item additional consideration.

Thank you for your continued concern for our citizens.

Sincerely,
GEORGE F. DE JESUS,
Mayor

Bicentennial Band Pageant

More than 500 music men and women will perform at the Placentia Unified School District Bicentennial Band Pageant at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 1 in Bradford Stadium, 500 N. Bradford Ave.

Junior high school bands from Kraemer, Tuffree and Bernardo Yorba, together with their attached units, will each take a turn presenting their parade march and pass in review in front of the stands.

Then the bands, drill teams and attached units from El Dorado, Esperanza and Valencia high schools will each present their competition march and parade review.

All the bands will play the "Star Spangled Banner" together before each high school performs a half-time field show, according to district music coordinator William Foster.

Band directors are Gary Lee, Kraemer; Donald Zink, Tuffree; Gary Wiedeman, Yorba; Richard Watson, El Dorado; Michael Johnson, Esperanza; and Andrew Bumatay, Valencia.

Volunteers from band parents' organizations will staff a refreshment stand, take tickets and serve as ushers.

Tickets may be purchased for $1 for adults and 50 cents for students at the gate or from band, drill team, banner and flag members at each school. All proceeds will go toward school music programs.

Aztec Band At Chaffey

For the third time in as many shows, the Esperanza Aztec Marching Band won a trophy for outstanding performance at the Chaffey College Band Pageant on Saturday, November 20 in Alta Loma.

With their highest score ever achieved in a half-time competition, 92.1, the band received third place recognition against five of the top show bands in the area.

Accepting the trophy for Esperanza was Martin Cantwell, drum major, accompanied by Mary Warmus, drill team captain; Robbie Cotton, flag captain; Stacy Johnson, majorette leader; and Eleanor Torres, majorette corp leader. Band director is Mike Johnson and drum instructor is Marck McKay.

Because of their consistent outstanding performances, the Esperanza Aztec Marching Band has been invited to participate in the Tournament of Champions to be held December 4 at Chaffey College.

This is a street and field marching event naming the 1976 Southern California Marching Band Champion.

Approval Given For Homes With View

A curvilinear pattern of homes, winding up a small hill, affording each unit a view or access to a green belt, was unanimously approved recently by the Placentia City Council.

The development, the work of architect-owner Hai C. Tan will be located between Mariposa Avenue and Orchard Drive east of Highland Avenue in Placentia. The area is near the border of Yorba Linda.

The plans include 70 homes on 14.4 acres in a zero lot style. Also incorporated into the design will be swimming facilities and tennis courts at two locations, it was revealed.

Homes will be privately owned on lots roughly 50 by 90 feet. Discussed by the council were some changes in fencing.

Author In Town

George La Fountaine, author of "Two Minute Warning", a novel and now a Universal motion picture, will be at The Book Shelf in Lakeview Center at 1 p.m. on Saturday, Dec. 4. Accompanied by his family, he will autograph all books bought that day.

"Two Minute Warning" is a novel about Super Bowl Sunday with 90,000 fans and a lone assassin. It is a real thriller by the author of "Flash Point."

Art Meeting

The Orange Art association will hold their regular meeting Wednesday, December 8 at 7:30, in the Little Theater of the Orange High School, Shaffer and Walnut Streets in Orange.

Entrance to the Little Theater is at the north end of the building on Shaffer Street.

Ed Eliff, well known artist of La Palma, will give a demonstration in watercolor technique. A scholarship will be awarded to each of two art students of Chapman College, selected by their art director, Mr. Turner. The Orange High School art department will receive a monetary donation also.

There is no admission charge. The public is invited.

BIG THANKS - Employees of Valencia Bank are pictured getting into the action by celebrating the remodeling and expansion of their office with a big "thank you". Valencia Bank opened for business December 27, 1971, and had the distinction of being the largest bank office in the town of Placentia. The "thank you" is for their customers who made them the largest and also shows the bank's appreciation for their patience during remodeling. Valencia Bank has grown to three offices which includes the communities of Fullerton and East Anaheim. A fourth office has been recently approved for the Lake Forest community. The bank's total assets are in excess of $32 million.

Lung Awareness Week Observed

The cities of Yorba Linda and Placentia, along with several other communities and the Orange County Board of Supervisors, have proclaimed the second week in December as "Lung Awareness Week." The proclamations also make Sunday, Dec. 5 "Breathe Easy Day."

The action is in special dedication to the respiratory health of county senior citizens and in recognition of the 70th anniversary of the first Christmas Seal drive.

The week and the day are under the sponsorship of the Lung Association of Orange County. Information regarding special respiratory programs and services for senior citizens can be obtained by calling 835-LUNG.

Student To Sit On PUSD Board

Trustees of the Placentia Unified School District Monday night gave a first reading to a policy which would permit a non-voting student representative to become part of the board of education.

A final decision will be made next meeting about having one student represent all four high schools or letting each high school have a representative.

The student member will sit for a year. Trustees indicated they favor having students select their own representative in some manner, rather than having the representative administratively appointed.

BY Band To Play Tonite

The Bernardo Yorba Junior High School band will perform at Placentia's Bradford Field tonight (Wednesday) at 7 p.m.

Led by drum major, Darla Black, and assistant drum major, Greg Adams, the band will be supported by the banner and flag corps, led by Kathy Kiefer.

Fulfilling a bicentennial theme set for the Placentia Unified School District's first-time-ever "Band Spectacular", the Yorba group will perform "Symbol of Honor", according to Dr. Gary Wiedeman, band director.

The pageant will feature the marching units from each of the district's junior and senior high schools.

Tickets may be purchased for $1 by adults and for 50 cents by students. The program is expected to run one and one-half hours only.

YOUR Pharmacist SPEAKS
By John Payne,
Owner - Reg. Pharmacist
LINDA VISTA PHARMACY
It wasn't until 1846 that ether was introduced to the medical profession as the first of the modern anesthetics. The very next year, 1847, brought chloroform and in 1853 the hypodermic needle was invented, destined to play a major role in the administration of anesthetics.
In 1884, an intern in the General Hospital of Vienna discovered the properties of cocaine as a local anesthetic. It remained for William Halsted, an American surgeon, to combine the hypodermic needle with cocaine. Halsted found that cocaine, injected near a main nerve, could numb the portion of the body controlled by that nerve. It was a giant step toward the control of pain and suffering.
Your doctor stops pain and illness with his prescriptions and we're proud to fill them for you, promptly and precisely at LINDA VISTA PHARMACY.

Here's something of value to stash away in your attic.

This may not look like much, but it's one of the best things you can store up there.
It's insulation. And whether you use this kind (which gets blown into place by professional contractors) or the kind you can roll out yourself, you're going to save money and energy.
Insulation keeps your home warmer in winter and cooler in summer. And it can cut the amount of gas you use for heating up to 20%.
Don't wait. Insulate now.
The less gas you use, the more money you'll save. And with energy costs rising rapidly, you'll be saving more all the time.

Smoking Apparatus Problems Resolved

A conflict over the right of Music Plus in Town Center II Placentia, to display and sell smoking apparatus, has been successfully settled, Arnold Hamala, the city's Director of Planning reported this week.

An agenda item concerning the equipment before the city's planning commission was withdrawn at Hamala's recommendation.

Hamala said that changes in display and practices inside the store had resolved the problem. He also added that smoking apparatus items have become "a typical accessory use" in major record dealers in Orange County.

The agenda item had been continued from a previous planning commission meeting in order to obtain a legal opinion from the city attorney.

Hamala in his report pointed out that tobacco stores were specifically excluded from section two of the Town Center even with use permit.

The music store, however, does not sell ingredients for the smoking apparatus, it was stated.

Pickups Sponsor Autorama

Bill Moeller's 4th Annual Orange County Autorama, largest custom car show in the West, is being sponsored by the Orange County Chapter of the Pickups, Ltd., car club. The show is due December 3-4-5 at Anaheim Convention Center.

Pickups, Ltd., has chapters in 10 or so Southland communities, with membership hovering between 60 to 100 members in each local club.

Pickups, Ltd., incidentally, is a family activity; not only pop, but mom and the kids participate. Meetings are held weekly and car rallies monthly.

"Club members," explains Don Camp of Santa Fe Springs, club president, "buy truck bodies paying up to $600 each. They're mainly Fords, '57 to '65 models. We rebuild 'em, taking up to 2 years, depending on how much spare time we have."

Many "baby" their pickups. An outsider is not permitted to touch the body and if he gets into the car, he must take off his shoes. A few owners won't even drive their custom cars. The wraps come off only at car shows.

Another 300 or so ardent custom car hobbyists will be displaying their prize-winning creations in addition to those being shown by Pickups, Ltd. members.

Special entertainment will include a fun-filled van painting contest, with local high school art classes competing for cash prizes; a rock around the clock band; and a fantastic selection of Feature and Funny Cars, boats, cycles and screenings of the "Funny Car Summer" film.

Hours are 5 to 11 p.m., Friday; noon to 11 p.m., Saturday, and noon to 10 p.m., Sunday. General Admission is $3.95 and 95 cents for kids 6 to 11.

Merit Cigarette Sets New Taste Standard.

'Enriched Flavor'™ breakthrough brings unprecedented taste to low tar smoking.

Today there's a way to get real taste from a cigarette without high tar.

That's the report on a new taste discovery called 'Enriched Flavor.' A way to pack flavor—extra flavor—into tobacco without the usual corresponding increase in tar.

The cigarette packed with 'Enriched Flavor' tobacco is remarkable new MERIT.

If you smoke, you'll be interested.

Tests Verify Taste

In tests involving thousands of smokers of filter cigarettes, the majority reported MERIT delivered more taste than five current leading low tar cigarettes having all the way up to 60% more tar.

Repeat: delivered more taste.

In similar tests against 11 mg. to 15 mg. menthol brands, MERIT MENTHOL was reported to deliver as much—or more—taste than the higher tar brands tested.

You've been smoking "low tar, good taste" claims long enough.

Now smoke the cigarette. MERIT.

Unprecedented flavor at 9 mg. tar.

One of the lowest tar levels in smoking today.

"Sh-sh--don't breathe so loud. We'll get caught. Quit moving the bush. Everybody crouch down. Sh--here he comes."

The boys could now see their teacher, Mr. McFadden heading down the path to the foot bridge crossing the Santa Ana River on his way to the one room school house. He's been unjustly harsh on Ben yesterday and the big boys were helping Ben rectify the injustice. Breathing all but ceased as Mr. McFadden strode up to the bridge. One step, two steps, three -- Whoa! There he goes; head over heels into the river!

The breath in the boys exploded with shrieks and giggles as they burst out of the thicket and up the hill to the school yard before they could be identified.

It was only a one room school and it accommodated all the children that attended from most of the Santa Ana Valley, which was one of the districts in Los Angeles County.

As well as being a teacher, Mr. William M. McFadden was the superintendent of Los Angeles County Schools, for which he received $400 per year. There was no allowance for stationery, stamps, or travel. "The salary has not paid for the office yet," wrote Superintendent McFadden in his 1870 report, "and if it were not for the prospect of relief my resignation would be handed in."

However this seems very unlikely for a person so scholarly and dedicated to education that he established the first teachers institute, built the first school for Placentia out of his own pocket (but was paid back later), served on numerous school boards and goaded his neighbors into being responsible for the business of running the school.

In the Placentia Unified School Districts Educational Center's archives there is a copy of a deed dated March 16, 1870 transferring from W. M. Bailey and John Bush, the latter of which indicated his

Placentia Struggles To Become A City

By Virginia Carpenter

No one knows now who first suggested that Placentia might incorporate as a city, but the idea floated around until the business men, in 1915, decided to carry it out. A special census showed a sufficient population, (only 500 were necessary), but opposition developed from the large land owners and oil companies who did not want to pay city taxes. Arguments pro and con raged for years. When Brea incorporated in 1917 there was hope that Placentia would follow. The next year a vote showed the majority in favor and a petition had enough signature, but for some reason it was withdrawn.

As the community grew, the need for police and fire protection and sanitation became more pressing; as well as local control of licensing and regulations. Two years later the business men made another attempt. Thomas McFadden secured 82 names on a petition, but the opposition also filed one against incorporation and the one for it was refused on a technicality, to the disappointment of the 250 who attended the hearing before the supervisors.

The fight went on, in 1921 Horace Lucy, Andrew Ipsen and George Holmes obtained 75 names on a new petition, but again H.C. Head and E.J. Marks fled for the opposition. The incorporators had included the whole school district which contained many square miles, the supervisors cut this by more than half, reducing the assessed valuation from six to two millions. Then they asked for more information on the people's views from both sides. So campaigning continued for the next few years. The main argument centering on who would, and who would not, be included in the city. A canvass of the business district showed 3 to 1 in favor, with most ranchers still opposed. Oil had been discovered and land values and prices soared, while the influx of workers and others complicated the situation. Letters printed by the paper included a series in a supposedly humorous dialect.

Finally a committee of Warren Bradford, Sam Harmony, Elmer Hochstein, Neil McClure and Charles Farrar persuaded the Wents to have their land north of Chapman and east of Bradford included in the new city. This time a much smaller area was chosen, only from Murray to Alta, Crowther to the Bradford school. When this petition with 83 names, notarized October 6, 1926, was presented to the supervisors, it was accepted and all went well. The special election was held November 23 and 169 Yes and 105 No

What It Was Like In Those Days

By George Key

This area was a semi-desert when the first settlers started coming in the late 1860's. Winter rains sustained small undergrowth and turned the area green in Spring with grass, mustard and other vegetation. But summer heat and dry winds soon parched the earth. There was no water until a few wells were hand dug, some over 100 feet in depth. These only supplied enough water for the domestic use on a few ranches. But the people were determined and dug a seventeen mile canal to bring water from the Santa Ana River. This canal, known as the Cajon Canal, terminated at what is now known as Golden Avenue. From here water was distributed to the ranches by small open ditches. This canal was dug in the 1870's.

By 1900 there were around 125 families in the area bounded on the west by State College Blvd., the south by Orangethorpe, the east by Rose Drive and the north by Golden Avenue. (Placentia extended beyond these boundaries in some places.)

The parents in these families were industrious, hard working thrifty people who had come from more than 15 countries. They were mostly young people. A number were teenagers who had left their homes to make their own living. In the "melting pot" of Placentia, these people were blended together to form a strong Community.

Having so many backgrounds, strong wills, and the determination and character needed to turn a semi-desert into a beautiful community, there were naturally strong divisions at times. Divisions over such issues as water, schools, roads and the like.

Beneath these divisions, however, there were strong ties of friendships and neighborliness. This sort of kinship was bred by a common vision and the hard work and many problems faced by all in this new land—a land of little water, no gas, no electricity, no automobiles or tractors, and the many other things we take for granted today.

The people of the area, before the turn of the century, were mostly ranchers and farmers who were raising sheep, cattle, hay, grain, vineyards, row crops and delicious fruits and nuts. Citrus gradually replaced all these other crops until the whole area was like one large citrus grove.(The first commercial Valencia Orange grove in California was planted in Placentia in 1880 by Richard Gilman).

There was always work to be done on the ranches, but the long hard hours for the men were mostly in the Spring, Summer and Fall. Their work eased up some in the winter.

For the house wife the long hours of hard work was year round. Hand washing clothes, ironing, sewing clothes with a treadle sewing machine, cooking and baking bread with a wood burning stove, making butter and the many other chores kept her busy. Many women also raised chickens and turkeys for home use, canned fruit and vegetables, milked the cows and some even helped in the fields. "How did they do it?" you ask. Well, for one thing they didn't have to be bothered with a radio, T.V. or telephone. They didn't have to be bothered with driving an automobile. There weren't any for many years.

Mothers didn't have to take the children to Brownies, Scouts or Little League. There were plenty of chores at home for the older children and plenty of room for the younger ones to roam and play.

Space will not permit dealing with all the

Whispers

One of Mr. Atillio Pierotti's favorite stories, he told me, was a certain young man [a local pioneer whose name I won't mention] who had gone too far with a young lady he admired in Pasadena. This was about 1880. The young man became scared that the young lady's father might shoot him, so he asked Mr. Pierotti to trade beds with him until the heat was off. Mr. Pierotti laughed and said, "As though I'd be a big enough fool to accommodate him."

Peg Bowen

One source of entertainment to A. Pierotti, R. H. Gilman, and W. Alms, in the seventies or early eighties, was told to me by my grandfather Gilman. When they were young unmarried blades, occasionally they would pester the local minister, the Rev. J.B. Tombes, who lived on Placentia Avenue, by shooting harmlessly, after nightfall, into the sky above the Reverend's house--then quickly hiding to enjoy the show as the Reverend charged out of his home, shooting wildly all over his yard and using language he would never use in church.

City's First Mayor Highly Praised

S.C. Harmony nominated Harrison O. Easton for Mayor the night of December 7, 1926. He was unanimously elected by the four man Board of Trustees composed of S.C. Harmony, W.W. Krick, Andrew Ipsen, and Harrison Easton.

This first City Council was faced with the formidable task of organizing a newly incorporated City, enacting ordinances and hiring essential personnel. Harry Easton was clearly well qualified for leading the Council through these precedent setting tasks.

The Easton family came to Placentia in 1917 to a home located on Bradford Avenue described by Easton's daughter, as being on the edge of what is now Kraemer Park.

Harry Easton was Manager of the Placentia Mutual Orange Packing House from 1919-1935 when he became Sunkist District Exchange Manager until his retirement in 1944. Retiring to the City of Hemet, he lived there with his wife until the end of his life in 1962.

On November 11, 1926, "The Placentia Courier" printed brief profiles on each person nominated for election to the City Council. The Courier article described Easton as a man for which there was no substitute.

"We happen to know that Harry Easton is recognized as one of the finest packing house executives in the state of California. At present...he is a very busy man. But history proves that if you want anything done well, go to the busiest man in town. That's why his nominators worked so hard to persuade him to serve... For Harry Easton as a City trustee, there is no substitute."

City records prove that for Harry Easton there indeed was no substitute. Traditions and many ordinances established by the first council are still in effect.

A clue to Easton's inimitable personality and sense of humor was printed in a column appearing in the "Placentia Courier" called "Little Rich Townlets," written by Thomas Pickerill, Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. In his column, Pickerill wrote "Harry Easton says the greatest ecomonic waste in the Country is killing perfectly good sheep to make a college diploma."

In tribute to her father, Marion Van Patten of Yorba Linda stated that although he moved from the City, Harry Easton remained interested in City affairs throughout his life. She cited examples of his involvement in community affairs following his term of office.

1927 Councilman Lives In Area

Herbert C. Foss, Sr., who served on the Placentia City Council in 1927 and 1928 may have the distinction of being Placentia's most senior living ex-council member.

He was officially sworn into office, in April 1927, barely four months after incorporation of the city. Foss, who will celebrate his 84th birthday in December, presently resides in the City of Orange.

Foss moved to Placentia in 1913 and was employed in the Orange Packing Industry. In 1922, he opened a grocery store in partnership with Horace Lucy, who operated a meat store near the intersection of Sante Fe Street and Bradford Avenue. Lucy would later serve as Placentia's first Fire Chief.

The early council member recalls Santa Fe in 1913 before it was paved. During the rainy season boards would be placed across the street so that residents could cross the street without stepping in the mud.

Herbert Foss's name appeared on the November 1926 incorporation ballot together with 11 other candidates for the Board of Trustees. Although he failed in his bid for election he was appointed to office upon the resignation of W.W. Krick, thus becoming the 6th person to take the oath of office for the Placentia City Council. The members of the first City Council are believed to be deceased.

Herbert Foss married the former Ruby Read of Placentia. They celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary this summer.

Chamber An Active Force

BY JANE CASWELL

Reading through the 1925 & 1926 Placentia Couriers (on microfilm at the library) one quickly realizes that the driving organization at that time was the young Chamber of Commerce. Incorporated in April of 1924, it promptly set about establishing lighting and paving districts, providing the growing city with it's first paved roads. Its weekly meetings under the leadership of president A.S. Bradford were always good for a front page Courier story.

After getting the street paving project under control, the chamber next undertook the task of providing police protection for the area. As an unincorporated area, it had to rely on the county sheriff for protection. Taking "subscriptions" from local ranchers, businessmen, and residents, they raised the necessary pledges of $200 a month and hired William Boulden, Chief of Police at Ratoon, New Mexico. He started work Feb. 2, 1925, and worked 8:30 to 9 a.m. patroling the school traffic and then from 7 p.m. to midnight securing the city and enforcing curfew. For emergencies, one called the Chamber of Commerce office to reach him. His major law enforcement problem was illegal liquor activities. Incorporation proponents (including the Courier) pointed out that the fines collected due to his arrests would have paid his salary had they gone to the city instead of the county.

City Votes; Quickly Organizes

At an election held November 23, 1926 voters approved incorporation of the City of Placentia. Official date of incorporation was December 2, 1926 with the filing of papers of incorporation at the County.

December 7, 1926, the first meeting of the newly elected Board of Trustees of the City was held in the Directors' Room of the Chamber of Commerce located on Santa Fe Avenue.

Thomas E. Pickerill, Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce was Acting Chairman for the preliminary ceremonial events.

A symbolic key to the City was presented to the Trustees by Fred Wasson. This key was designed by Miss Laura Nethercote, art teacher for the Placentia Grammar School.

Several citizens spoke at the meeting congratulating the Trustees on their election. Among the speakers commemorating the City's incorporation were H.S. Leavitt, Agent for the Santa Fe Railroad, who spoke for the schools; Ralph McFadden, Rancher, representing the ranchers, and O.C. Christensen, spokesman for the businessmen.

After the initial ceremonies, a recess was called and refreshments of cigars and candy were distributed to the people in attendance.

Chairman Pickerill then reconvened the meeting. In his capacity as Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce

BIG HAIR RIBBONS were in style this year and boys wore bows too in this classic 1912 picture of a Placentia graduating class. The picture belongs to Kenneth Yorba, Yorba Linda resident, whose mother identified him in the picture with an X. But the other attractive young students are not positively identified. Anyone with information as to who they are is urged to call the Placentia Courier at 528-2525. Any further particulars on the young students will be appreciated. The group is believed to be the first grade class at Bradford School. Possible in the picture are Ben Kraemer, Brick Poor, Vic Conde, Josephine Kuhn, Harry Ipsen, Cliff Davis, Hugh Edwards, Roy Cox, Louis Kraemer, Johanna Lemke and Clara Schumacher.

The Hamlet Becomes A City

votes were cast, 88 percent of the voters with three fifths in favor. So on November 29, 1926 supervisors T.B. Talbert, S.H. Finley, William Schumacher and Willard Smith, (George Jeffrey absent) unanimously signed the Resolution declaring that the City of Placentia, a municipal corporation of the sixth class, was duly incorporated with boundaries as described. J.M. Back was County Clerk and the Resolution was filed on December 2.

The "Baby City", as it was called, had an official population of 800; an area of 117 acres or .16 square miles; the tax rate set at $1 per $100 and the budget at $9,500.

Twelve men ran for the Board of Trustees, called the city council later. The five chosen were: H.O. Easton, S.C. Harmony, Andrew Ipsen and W.W. Krick. Noah Cronicle, George Cowan and Joaquim Queyrel tied for fifth place with 91 votes each; Cowan won the run-off. The other candidates were Clyde Curtis, Herbert Foss, Elmer Hochstein, Herbert Leavitt and Glenn Riddlebarger. Easton received the largest number of votes, 149, and became the first mayor. E.A. Eisenacher became city clerk, running against Nellie Cline, the only woman. She became city clerk later. The city treasurer was Fred Woodson, cashier of the bank; Thomas Pickerill, secretary of the Chamber of commerce, was judge of the city court, with Albert Launer as city attorney. The first chief of police was Jess Buckles and Horace Lucy the unpaid fire chief.

City offices opened in a room over the bank, moved to the Kraemer building in 1931, returned to the bank and then moved to the Baxter and Lucy building on Bradford. The trustees continued to plan for a proper city hall, but in a $15,000 bond election in 1934 they lost by one vote and lost again in a second election. The third time, in 1939, they succeeded and built a small Spanish style city hall, police and fire station on Bradford Ave. opposite the library.

In 1965, just 100 years after one family, the Daniel Kraemers purchased raw land, Placentia became a charter city. In December 1974, the city hall moved to the impressive new building in the new Civic Center on Kraemer Ave., again opposite the new library. With a tax rate of $1.22 per $100, the city's area is now nearly seven square miles and the population at the last count was 31,281.

It Was Different 5

It isn't too difficult for Wint and Ella Nickles to visualize how it was in Placentia the day the city was incorporated.

As a matter of record Nickles had arrived in town in October, 1926 two months before the big event.

"It was a little country town...no policemen," he remembers. "There was a city marshall and he didn't have a car."

"The service station on Chapman Avenue was sitting out in the street. The first fire station was on Bradford Avenue where the lawnmower place is now," he recalls.

Nickles for 42 years was the manager of the John C. Tuffree Ranch, a spread that ran along Carolina Avenue, now Kraemer Boulevard. On weekends and nights he helped out the police department and was a member of the Sheriff's Reserves for 15 years.

50 Years Ago!

Although there was a lot of work to be done in a rural town that was filled with agriculture, Nickles recalls it was still expedient to take a little time out for fun and recreation.

Kraemer Park was a walnut grove but that area, from Murray Street east was the site of the turkey shoots, an event sure to bring out a crowd.

Also crowd-gathering were the dances held in the area. Nickles remembers well because he helped play for many. A stringed-instrument man, he is proficient on the ukulele, mandolin, violin, guitar and banjo.

At one time Nickles had a band of his own and they entertained the townspeople in the old Legion Hall, on Chapman Avenue. The building is now torn down and the Backs Memorial Fountain stands on the site.

As a musician Nickles became acquainted with a number of country western stars including the Sons of the Pioneers, and one of their alumnus, Roy Rogers. Ernest Tubbs is another friend.

Mrs. Ella Nickles remembers that the women kept busy too 50 years ago...raising their families and participating in such things as the PTA, Womens Christian Temperance Union (WCTU), Girl Scouts and church work. The Nickles met at the Placentia Nazarene Church in 1927.

The couple have three boys and two girls. Donald now is Reverend Nickles of San Pedro Nazarene Church. Elizabeth and Mary live in Iowa. Earl is a barber in Leisure World Center and lives in Santa Ana and Bill lives and works in the San Fernando Valley.

The senior Nickles now reside in a house on Main Street in Placentia, which they bought in 1945. Nickles has been retired for about seven years but that has given him time for another hobby. At his home he had budding fruit trees...with as many as seven varieties of fruit on one tree.

individuals I knew. But as certain names are mentioned, a few boyhood memories flash through my mind.

The Wagners—sheep, beautiful houses, hunting hounds. Ortega—large houses, hounds, large walnut grove. McFaddens- -schools, citrus fumigation, a large pair of mules I drove for one of them. Crowther—musical family, Ed Crowther's sons band and his Stanley Steamer Auto. Lemke—making his escape from Poland in a barrel as a teenager, the day he bought his first car and the front wheels jumped the irrigation ditch when he forgot how to turn it. Knowleton—Found his father's 1907 Reo stalled beside the road in Fullerton, got it started and drove it home, forgetting how to stop it! He just kept circling through the grove. Strain—His little one cylinder Oldsmobile (first car I remember) and his Irish tunes played on a concertena. Berkenstock—sporty, bright red, two seater Franklin with a round hood sort of like a barrel. Gilman—musical family with two cornets, piano, violin, cello and clarinet.

At the risk of being termed president of the Liar's Club I will relate a few other things.

There were years so dry there wasn't feed for the sheep and cattle. Some cattle were driven over cliffs to their death rather than let them starve.

There were floods that did much damage and people lost their lives. Santa Ana winds lasted for three days, generally, and were so hot and dry that they burned the east side of Orange trees. Dust was often so thick it was hard to see. Oil derricks have been blown over.

One real wet winter, Mr. Strain rode a raft down Placentia Avenue from Palm Drive to Orangethorpe. One time John Tuffree road a boat from Madison Avenue to Anaheim. Charles Wagner, Sr. got stuck in flood waters on Placentia Avenue just south of Orangethorpe and had to unhitch his horses and leave his wagon.

At times Placentia and Chapman Avenues were all but impassable with horse and buggy. On all but stormy days, Catalina could be seen from our home. Mountains could be clearly seen most of the year. I've seen snow on Old Baldy on July 4th.

At night the stars were always bright and the "Milky Way" was clearly seen. The air was so clean and there was such little noise that often the pounding of the surf at the beach could be heard in Placentia.

Hard to believe, isn't it? But these things were part of the "good old days".

Another unique thing about Placentia was that you did not dare say anything bad about anyone in the community because you probably would be talking about some ones relative!

It might be stretching a point, but through marriages this was almost so. Take McFadden for instance. They were related to Tombes, Pendletons, Brewers. A Pendleton girl married a Bosseran and another married a Staley, and so it reached out. As for the Wagners, they were related to the Berkenstocks, Ortegas, Andrads and through marriage ties in with the Stones, Johnson, Myers, Hansens, Edwards and through the Berkenstocks to Lemkes and thus Edwardson.

My family was related to Cahoes, Daniels, Wrights, Brewers, Ames, Gilmans, and Huntleys.

My father's cousin married a Strain, who was related to Pieretta's. My cousin's granddaughter married a Yorba and the Yorbas were related to the Kraemers. A Yorba married a Tuffree. I married an Ipsen who was related to the Andersons. Now who are you going to talk about? Don't you dare talk about my relatives.

Of course the claim to relationship might depend on how people voted for President, a school bond, etc. Or if they had a bumper crop of oranges or an oil well on their ranch.

Chamber At The Center Of Activity

But the police are rarely free of criticism. An item in the April 29, 1976, Courier states "Tom McFadden, attorney of Placentia and Anaheim, made a good talk at Tuesday's meeting. He represented 100 Mexicans some of who testified informally that they were not securing proper treatment from Officer Boulden." Charges had been brought against him earlier but the Courier mentioned them without giving their nature--just urging support. The case was dismissed after the jury split 10-2 for acquittal.

The Chamber board discussed the charges, could not agree, and kept him until he resigned in July '26. He was not replaced until after incorporation when a police department was established.

The same chamber meeting heard a report on the "matter of unsanitary conditions in West Placentia."..."According to their report you don't have to go to New York or London to go slumming."

Some of our current problems are by no means new; after all they deal with people. The city won its All America City award for efforts to help alleviate some of the problems. A number of private groups also work toward such goals, lending credence to the city motto "The people are the city".

The Chamber of Commerce no longer has to provide paving and lights, but faces problems of its own. Where the 1925 Chamber was putting on broadcasts on KFI for publicity, today's chamber sponsors the Miss Placentia contest, puts on a pancake breakfast, sponsors "Breakfast with the Mayor", and special activities in addition to the traditional maps and brochures.

Today's problems include limited land available and neighboring towns competing for business in an area so interwoven one needs a sign or a map to know when he's left one city and entered another.

Today's chamber operates under the direction of president Rose Lembke, director of Public relations Joseph Hyde, and executive secretary Phyllis Stambaugh. Their tasks have changed in fifty years, but they still do a lot of hard work and need the community's support.

Whispers

Mr. Charles Tuffree has run across many interesting entries in his grandfather Tuffree's diary. Among them is that of Mr. Thomas Strain who, in the wet year of 1884 [40 inches, according to the diary], floated, in an upside down carpenter's bench, down Placentia Avenue.

Peg Bowen

Pete Hansen's idea of a real treat was blood soup, as served in his native Denmark. He liked to share it with his neighbors, Gilmans, Tombes and McFaddens. This posed a problem because they respected Mr. Hansen's feelings, but felt that his treat was another man's poison.

Peg Bowen

"Where's that bell I hear?" was asked more than once, during pioneer days. It turned out that the Kraemer children had caught a coyote and tied a bell about his neck before releasing him.

Peg Bowen

One of the humorous tales related by Mrs. Ardith Wagner Hanson is of the Wagner men when they were kids. At that time there were no paved streets in Placentia. There was plenty of dust, especially in front of the local church. So one Sunday when the boys were looking for excitement, they tied large tumble weeds on the ends of ropes that were fastened to their horses. As the congregation left the church, the boys raced their horses by, enveloping the dressed up members in great clouds of dust stirred up by the tumble weeds.

and Notary Public, Mr. Pickerill administered the Oath of Office to Trustees Harrison O. Easton, S.C. Harmony, W.W. Krick, and Andrew Ipsen, City Treasurer Fred Woodson, and City Clerk E.A. Eisenacher.

City Clerk Eisenacher convened the official meeting of the Board of Trustees. He called for nominations for Chairman of the Board. S.C. Harmony nominated and W.W. Krick seconded H.O. Easton for Chairman. Easton was unanimously elected the first Chairman of the Placentia Board of Trustees.

Chairman Easton then asked the Board to consider Ordinance No. 1 setting the meeting place, time, and date. Bothe the Bank of America and O.C. Christensen offered the City meeting facilities. Christensen's office building was selected because the bank was closed in the evenings and the city meetings were public. This building was located on the southeast corner of Bradford Avenue and Center Street and is now a dress shop.

City Ordinance No. 1 set forthe the City's meeting place as O.C. Christensen's office on the first and third Mondays of each month at 7:30 p.m.

The remainder of the meeting was devoted to routine organizational matters.

signature with the mark of x, to T.J. Scully (who married into the Yorba family) and Prudencio Yorba, Trustees of the Santa Ana School District and to their successors in office three acres of land for the sum of one dollar which is in the southeast corner of the present Imperial Highway and Santa Ana Canyon Highway intersection. This was the place where the first and for many years the only school house serving most of Santa Ana Valley stood; and the scene of the opening story.

A boulder and plaque was placed on the site in 1929 by the Daughters of the American Revolution, was stolen in 1938 and has since been replaced.

In the 1870 census there were 275 children between 5 and 15, 42 were enrolled, and the average daily attendance was 15 in the Santa Ana (Valley) School District.

When Placentia School District was petitioned for on August 17, 1874, under the name of Cajon School District the dividing line was Santa Ana Canyon Highway thus including the aforementioned site. The construction of the Riverside Freeway forced a change in district boundaries and we lost this historical site from our district.

The original school district comprised about 50 square miles. Many withdrawals and joinings have altered our boundaries through the years but the central portion has remained unchanged. The present district encompasses 34 square miles.

In 1874 there were twelve districts in the Los Angeles County Superintendents Annual Report. There was much confusion and name changing (and perhaps name calling) during this period and it is not certain whether or not our district is included until 1879 when we took the name of Placentia.

"The County Superintendent appointed W.M. McFadden, W.E. Shanklin and Mr. Thos. Burris Trustees to serve until an election should be held. They immediately proceeded to erect a house for school purposes on Kraemer land. And on the 12th of Sept. an election was held for Trustees. R.H. Gilman was elected for one year, W.M. McFadden for two years and Wm. E. Shanklin for three years from June 1875. On the Eighth of Sept. school was opened by Miss Hartley and adjourned till the 14th when school was again opened for a term of six months. Salary agreed upon $65 per mo."

SCRAMBLE - Since taking over at quarterback Mike Ludwig [10 white jersey] has helped pass Esperanza into the CIF playoffs. On this occasion, in last week's 21-7 win over Cajon, Mike found all his receivers covered and had to run the ball.

Aztecs Advance

by Peter Bourke

Esperanza High School combined outstanding defense and a potent passing attack to advance to the quarter finals of the CIF AA competition this week by downing Cajon 21-7.

The Aztecs will now go on to meet the number one ranked team in AA competition, Antelope Valley, in the third round this Friday.

Antelope Valley was the Golden League's first place team this year and thus far boasts a nearly perfect 10-0-1 record. In getting to the quarter-finals this week, they have downed Workman 48-13 and handily beat Channel Islands 34-16 just last week.

They rely mainly on an explosive rushing attack, running off the I. The bulk of the ground gaining has come from tailback Bill Hilliker who has rushed for over 1500 yards this year.

In Esperanza's second round victory over Cajon last Friday, Aztec quarterback Mike Ludwig threw a total of 15 times completing 11 for an outstanding 208 yards. Wide receiver Jim Teahan was Ludwigs main target, catching nine passes for 120 yards.

This productive passing attack accounted for Esperanza's first score when Ludwig found Vern Ernst in the end zone on a 13 yard pass midway through the initial period. The score capped a 69 yd. drive, 56 of which came through the air. The missed PAT kept the score at 6-0.

Both the Aztecs' and Cowboys' defenses tightened up after this, until Cajon decided to take the lead in the third quarter.

Cowboy tailback Freddie Washington did the damage when he ran 12 yards for the six pointer. Craig Gerber's succesful point after put Cajon up by a point with 6:58 left in the third period.

The fourth quarter saw Esperanza cinch the victory scoring twice and stopping Cajon by intercepting two Cowboy passes.

The first Aztec score of the fourth quarter came on a 20 yard Don Stodola run to cap a 41 second drive which covered 38 yards. It was Stodola's first of two TD's, finishing the night with 109 yds on 25 carries. Ludwig threw to Teahan for the point after and Esperanza was once again on top, 14-7.

Stodola closed out Cajon with 6:27 remaining in the game when he dashed 19 yards for the final TD. The tally ended a 64 yard drive and Ludwig's kick ended the scoring at 21-7.

Esperanza could not capitalize on several opportunities to put the game away earlier, driving inside the Cajon five yard line three times only to come up empty.

The Aztec defense secured the victory, intercepting three passes and recovering a fumble. Senior cornerback Robert Neria recovered the only fumble and snagged one of the interceptions for Esperanza.

The win increased the Aztec winning streak to five games and upped their season mark to an outstanding 9-1-1.

Esperanza will host this week's game with Antelope Valley. The game will begin at 7:30 at Bradford Stadium.

The winner of this week's contest will go on to face the winner of the San Dimas-Agoura game in the semi-finals next Friday.

HawkCagersReadyTo Go

by Brian Hilderbrand

"We'll have to improve in practice this week for Troy," commented El Dorado basketball coach Nash Rivera following the Hawks' second and final scrimmage of the season.

The Golden Hawks will open the 1976-77 season this Friday against Troy, in the Warriors' gym.

Rivera felt that his squad did a good job offensively, but appeared sluggish on defense.

"Overall we did a good job offensively, but some individuals will have to shoot more," the Hawk mentor stated.

Jim Babcock, Rob Linn, Steve Peacock and John Heller were named by Rivera as the standouts. Both Babcock and Linn, along with Jim Boyd and Joe Martin are returning starters from last years' team.

Under Rivera's leadership, the Golden Hawks have won five consecutive Orange League championships, and back-to-back CIF 2A titles in 1974 and 1975. The Orange League will be moved up to 3A this year.

Rounding out the team are John Boyd, Larry Hughes, Bruce Livezey, Dave Calhoun, Rick Hayes, Kirk Conforti, Brian David, Todd Bourman and Mike Martin.

On the junior varsity level, Iran Novicks' team is progressing well.

"We are much closer to our expected potential," Novick feels.

Dave Stipe, Reid Poole and Chris Dressel were singled out by Novick for their rebounding talent. Both Poole and Stipe are 6'7".

Ron Tagney and Sam McManis earned praise from Novick as the offensive and defensive standouts. McManis came up with 11 steals against El Toro.

Hawks Win In Polo Playoffs

by Brian Hilderbrand

El Dorado had little trouble in the opening round of the CIF water polo playoffs, downing Whittier, 7-4 in the Esperanza pool.

In the first half, the defending 3A champions had problems with the Cards' defense, but they were able to adjust by the second half. El Dorado came back with five goals, four in the final period, to secure the win.

Whittier's Randy Leach scored the only goal of the first period with 2:44 remaining. Although the Hawks' took twice as many shots than the Cards', ED was held scoreless.

With 4:44 left in the second period, Devin Claffey hit on a shot to put the Hawks on the board and tie the score at 1-1.

Leach came back with a goal for Whittier just 33 seconds later to put the Cards' back in the lead, 2-1, but not for long. On a long pass from goalie Jay Bickford, Grant Jeffries hit on a ten footer to tie the score at halftime, 2-2.

El Dorado controlled the ball for most of the third quarter, and didn't allow Whittier to take a shot for the first five of the six minute period. Even the Hawks had trouble scoring. In a two minute span, ED took four shots but nothing went in.

Then, with 50 seconds left in the third period, Claffey got the rebound of a deflected shot, and put one past the goalie to put ED back in the lead, 3-2.

Just 11 seconds later, however, Leach hit on his third of four goals to tie the score at three apiece.

The Hawks came out fighting in the final quarter. ED's Mark Rangel and the Cards' Leach exchanged goals to put the tie at 4-4.

El Dorado scored three more times in the fourth to produce the 7-4 final. Claffey hit on two shots, and Eric Andrews put one in.

Claffey was high scorer for ED with four goals. Jeffries, Rangel and Andrews each had one.

Prior to the game, coach Walt Druff of El Dorado stated that "it's not an easy first round game." Druff also expressed that the Hawks are in a "very tough" bracket.

"We can't rely on other teams knocking the tough ones out of the playoffs, we're going to have to do some knocking out ourselves," Druff explained.

Cabrillo High was the Hawks next obstacle. ED faced them on Tuesday at Esperanza. A win by El Dorado would put them in the quarterfinal game to be held this Saturday at the Fullerton Municipal pool. The probable opponent for either Cabrillo or the Hawks will be Upland.

SWARMING DEFENSE of Troy High blunted the usual high powered offense of South Pasadena High as Warriors [dark jersies] stop Tigers ball carrier for no gain in CIF playoff game. However, South Pasadena came from behind to oust Troy 20-17.

Troy Errs And Loses

by Scott Emblidge

Troy High School's football season came to a close last Friday evening when they dropped a 20-17 contest to top-ranked South Pasadena.

The Warriors had a 17-6 lead at halftime and it appeared that a major upset was in the making but crucial errors by Troy gave the Tigers their 23rd consecutive victory.

The loss was not a total disappointment for the Warriors. Troy had their best year in football and they were not expected to do much against the number one ranked team in the 3A division of CIF.

But thanks to the running of Tony Bushala, who set the all-time single season record for a runner in Orange County, the Warriors actually outplayed their opponents.

Troy looked good from the beginning of the game and got on the scoreboard first when Bushala scored on a 33 yard run. Bushala broke the Kennedy High School Charley Judge record of most yards gained rushing in a season late in the first half.

He ended the season with 1,867 yards which included three games where he gained over 200 yards. Bushala gained more yards rushing than the entire South Pasadena team as he carried 35 times for 177 hard earned yards.

The Warriors scored on their next possession when they drove down to the five yard line and Dan Worthington kicked a 22 yard field goal to give Troy a 10-0 first quarter lead.

The Tigers mounted their first successful drive after Troy kicked off. They drove down to the four yard line and their highly regarded halfback Robby Chapman took it in from there. Eugene King blocked the extra point to keep the score at 10-6.

Troy came back late in the second quarter when they engineered a 70 yard drive capped off by a Richard Bridgford quarterback sneak of less than a yard for the score.

As has been the case all season long, when Troy needed the yardage they went behind their all-county center Tim Myers. The entire offensive line performed brilliantly with guards Larry Hickox and Dave Forsyth and tackles Terry Slatic and Howard Stevens opening holes for Bushala to run through.

The line also provided excellent protection for Bridgford who completed eight out of 15 passes on the night for 87 yards. Myers left the game late in the final quarter with an apparent knee injury and received a well deserved standing ovation.

The second half was all South Pasadena though with Troy not able to mount a single successful scoring drive. Every time the Warriors threatened a crucial penalty or turnover stopped them. The highly motivated Tigers did not hestiate to capitalize on Troy errors.

Statistically the Warriors overwhelmed South Pasadena. Troy outgained them in rushing 314-158 yards, in passing 87-35 and in first downs 22-10. But on the scoreboard the Tigers came out on top.

South Pasadena scored after a Bushala fumble and Hickox broke up the extra point attempt to keep Troy ahead 17-12, but the Tigers ended the game's scoring in the fourth quarter.

Following a Warrior drive which stalled because of a holding penalty after Bushala had succeeded in gaining the first down, the Tigers drove down to the two where Chapman scored his third touchdown of the game. The two point conversion was successful and the Tigers led 20-17 and that was how it ended.

The '76 season was the most successful one for Troy in football

Tee Up with Burt Brooks

Yorba Linda Country lost one of it's most distinguished members on November 18th when LYLE TRIPP passed away with a heart attack. Funeral services were held on Monday of last week.

LYLE held the club championship several different times; he served on almost every committee needed to run a successful country club and golf course; he served as greens chairman and advised on the new holes and new greens which have been developed on the local course during the past few years. He also served on committees of the Southern California Golf Association and was well liked and highly respected throughout the State.

Lyle was playing in the Southern California Open golf championship at VIA VERDE COUNTRY CLUB and had just dropped his ball into the hole from off the green for a birdie. As he leaned over to remove the ball from the cup, he fell with a heart seizure and died a few hours later at San Dimas Community Hospital.

We will miss him but realize that he left this world doing what he loved to do most, playing the game which was so much a part of his life.

Local 11's Win

Championships were won in two divisions by Placentia-Yorba Linda Pop Warner football teams last weekend.

In the Junior Pee Wee bracket the Warriors upended the Fullerton Cobras 13-6. In the Midget class the Aztecs blanked the Santa Ana Rookies 8-0.

The games were played in the annual Orange Empire Bowl.

Girl Netters Win

by Peter Bourke

Esperanza's girls tennis team took one more step towards a CIF AA crown last Tuesday when they downed Morro Bay 20-2½ in the quarter-finals at the Yorba Linda Country Club.

The Aztec netters are seeded number one in the CIF tournament and have done well to earn that seeding, decisively downing all of their opponents thus far this year.

Led by singles star Carol Sawa, they are presently 19-0 and hosted Bishop Diego High School yesterday in the semi-finals. The match was held at the Yorba Linda Country Club but scores were not available at press time.

Should the Aztec racket maidens advance to the finals, it is expected that they will meet either Hemet or Holtville, the second and third seeded teams in the tournament.

The finals will be held this Saturday, the place unknown.

"If we can get by Bishiop Diego I think that we have an excellent shot at taking the whole thing," commented Agee. "All of the girls have been playing exceptionally well and I'm very pleased with their performances."

JUSA Meeting

The Junior United Soccer Association will hold its annual meeting of the general membership on December 2 at 7:30 p.m. at Valencia High School auditorium in Placentia.

Of vital interest to all members will be the election of a new board of directors for the coming year and discussion of operating policies and activities for next season.

TIGER TALK

Special Dance This Friday

The Valencia class senators have announced they will sponsor a special "come together" dance on Friday, Dec. 3rd from 9 to 11 p.m. in the school gym.

The fast rising band Warhorse will provide the music. The musical group has just finished cutting their first album. The band provides music in the tradition of the Eagles, Chicago and Aerosmith. A special light show will accompany the music.

Tickets at the door will be $2 per person for this special "added attraction". This will be the last informal dance of the year.

Each person attending is asked to bring a can of food for the school Canned Food Drive that started this week.

Donkey Basketball Thursday

Thursday, Dec. 2nd, the Valencia gym will be filled with laughter as the annual Donkey Basketball contest is staged in the gym. Super seniors will take on the fearless faculty in a contest of patience in the face of "darn right stubborness."

Faculty cheerleaders will lead the spirited spectators as John Peters, KEZY radio disc jockey, provides the commentary.

Tickets sold at the door will be $2 for adults and $1.50 for children under 12. Doors will open at 7 p.m.

Spectators are asked to bring a can of food for the school Canned Food Drive taking place this week and next.

Canned Food Drive Spotlights Competition

December 1st through 10th have been designated annual Canned Food Drive Days at Valencia. Freshman, sophomore, juniors and seniors will compete to see which class can provide the most canned food for local distribution during the holidays. A special showing of the film "Tommy" will be presented for the winning class.

The drive is being conducted in conjunction with the Placentia Round Table, headquarters for the 1976 Community Christmas Clearing Bureau.

Working with schools in the area since 1966, the Bureau has provided a complete Christmas for over 7,450 children within families residing in Placentia, Yorba Linda and Atwood.

Valencia takes pride in aiding this most worthy cause. Valencia Student Council is in charge of the school drive.

Valencia Honors Football Players

Over four hundred football players and guests attended the Valencia Football Banquet held at the McFadden gym.

Several players were honored for outstanding contributions to the football season. Most Improved trophies went to Jeff Doyle (Freshman), David Steigner (sophomore) and Ernie Robles (Varsity). Most Valuable awards were presented to Robert Nagel (Freshman), Steve Rosas (Sophomore), and Norm Rodriguez (Varsity).

Trophies were also presented to Mark Benedict (Most Underrated Player), Carlos Esquivel (Fist Award), and Danny Moreno (Most Inspirational).

Ed Bennett, Football Booster President, presided over the event. At the conclusion of the banquet, Al Barlow was introduced as president of the 1977 Booster Club.

Valencia Coaches Overpower El Dorado Coaches

Initiating what will be an annual event for Valencia and El Dorado High Schools, a Valencia coaches vs. El Dorado coaches basketball game was staged for an enthusiastic crowd at the El Dorado gym.

The Valencia coaches held on to the lead after the first seconds of the game to carry home a 68-58 win over the Hawk faculty. From the opening ceremony during which Valencia Director of Athletics, Bob Hamblin, stole the spotlight from the El Dorado flag girls, Valencia dominated the proceedings. The El Dorado Band gave outstanding support.

Piranhas Lose 12-6

by Shirley Hummitsch

The PYLJAA Jr. Pee Wee Piranhas got struck down by the venom of the Tustin Cobras last Saturday in a contest that clearly showed the Tustin team the victor. The final score was 12-6.

The Piranhas gained 137 total yards to their opponent's 173. The chilling wind may have been an unexpected factor that dampened the Piranhas usual passing power, reducing 9 attempts to only 2 successes.

Offensively, Mitch Atchley was the only one able to score a Piranhas TD on a one-half yard run while the Cobras managed two book ends of six between it. Neither side attained points after touchdowns.

Hank Espinoza of the Piranhas carried 12 times for a total of 37 yards; Atchley was 11/19; Mike Hughes rushed 8 times for 54.

Lost fumbles hurt the PYLJAA team. They dropped 6, lost 4. Also, 3 pass interceptions foiled would-be yardage.

Defensively, Espinoza tackled 13 Cobras; Forrest Luke dropped 12; both John and Ricky Rodriguez upset 8 each; while Pat Wren and Jim Higgs grounded 6 apiece.

The PYLJAA Piranhas are out of it now with a season record of 10-1. The PYLJAA Barracudas however, who won last Saturday, will be the ones to meet the Tustin Cobras this Saturday at 1:30, at the Orange Coast College, Lebard Stadium, Costa Mesa.

Water Polo Playoffs

Five area schools will be in the second round of CIF 3A Water Polo competition today (Wednesday) having survived in opening round games. Esperanza lost in the first round to Foothill of the Century League.

El Dorado, which beat Whittier, will play the winner of the Cabrillo-Atascadero game. Brea goes against the winner of the Monte Vista-La Canada tussle. Brea ousted Hawthorne.

Servite, which beat Miraleste, tangles with either Crescenta Valley or Lompoc.

Sunny Hills will entertain Newbury Park and Los Altos will be at Anaheim in the 4A division.

Quarter final games will be played Saturday at Newport High. If Servite wins today they will play at 11:30 a.m. Saturday and Brea could be the opponent. Should El Dorado win today they would play at 1 p.m. Saturday.

Semi-final matches are slated for December 8 at East Los Angeles City College and the finals are scheduled at the same site on December 10.

Contest Winner

Three sharp guessing fans picked 17 winners in the 20 games listed in the 11th weekly "GRIDIRON GUESSES" Contest to tie for first. The pick out of the hat tabbed Jerry Thimgan, 19852 Ravenna, Yorba Linda as the winner over Mark Morgan, 5661 Jay, Yorba Linda and Jerry Brown, 4491 Via Del Valle, Yorba Linda.

A recheck of the 10th weekly contest revealed that Dick Lasher of Yorba Linda had, for the third time, tied for first. This left four, instead of three people, tied for first. All the names were put back in the hat and another pick made. Lasher's entry was not chosen so Jim Nixon remains the winner.

Football Boosters

The Esperanza Football Booster Club will meet on Tuesday, December 7, at 7:30 p.m. in the teacher's lounge at Esperanza High School.

Films of the Aztecs' third round CIF playoff game with Antelope Valley will be shown. Coach Yoder and his staff will be present to discuss the game and answer any questions.

Reservations for the Fourth Annual Football Awards Banquet on January 10, at Knotts Berry Farm are being accepted.

Chiltons to Entertain

Harold Chilton, with his wife and family, will entertain at the Yorba Linda Friends Christmas Banquet on Saturday, December 4, at Arrowhead Springs.

Both Harold and his wife Lois, teach in the Whittier City Schools. Harold also teaches Greek at a Bible School in Van Nuys. He is an outstanding accordianist and musician. He also directs the "Chilton Singers," a group of 12 who minister to many churches in this area.

He and his family love music and are very much involved in it. They have just recently made a recording with gospel singers Greg and Barbara Loren and a large studio orchestra.

The tickets for the entertainment and banquet are $5.50 each, and the deadline for reservations is Sunday, November 28th. Call the church office for tickets and information.

Lutherans Select Council

Council members of the Redeemer Lutheran Church in Placentia have been chosen, the church announced this week.

Named to two year terms are: financial secretary, Ed Vendes; treasurer, Elizabeth Lambert; board chairmen, church and community relations, Pam Schaeffer; evangelism, Karl Jung; parish education, Tal Klaus; property management, Harley McVay.

One year terms: stewardship, Gordon Bakken and worship, Joe Shepard.

Eve Services At Redeemer

Three Christmas Eve Candlelight Services will be held this year at the Redeemer Lutheran Church, Placentia.

The services will be held at 6 p.m., 7:30 p.m. and a Communion Service at 11 p.m., the announcement states.

Group Home Approved

A private home, situated in a Placentia residential district was granted a use permit as a home for adolescent girls, at a recent meeting of the city's planning commission.

The residence, the property of Ben and Bessie Davis is located at 719 Longfellow Drive.

Permission for the use in a single family area is mandated by California state law, it was pointed out at the hearing. The city's province is simply regulatory.

Neighbors spoke both in support and in question of the use. The permit is granted only to Mr. and Mrs. Davis at that address and is not transferable to another location or to other individuals it was explained.

The home has been in use for this purpose for over four years and currently permits girls from ages 11 to 17 to occupy the residence with the Davises. The youngsters are assigned to the home from referrals through Orange Los Angeles and Riverside County social service departments.

It was pointed out at the hearing that no complaints have been received regarding the home and its operation.

The state permits the use for mentally retarded or emotionally disturbed juveniles as long as such homes provide care on a 24-hour a day basis.

The use permit was approved by a 5-0 vote of the planning commission. Commissioner William Beggerly was absent and Commissioner Richard Cuevas had asked to be excused from participation on the item since he lives within the area affected.

It was the second residence in Placentia so approved. The first such home to appear for similar licensing is located at 1501 North Bradford Avenue.

ST. JOSEPH'S WOMEN'S COUNCIL presents a $150 check to the Placentia Round Table Christmas Clearing Bureau. The money will be used to purchase food and toys for needy families. Bev Boucher and Jean Lampher of St. Joseph's give the check to Linda Dawson [right] of the Junior Round Table.

City Celebrates

dominant activity 50 years ago.

Easton, who is no longer living, will be represented by his daughter, Marion Van Patten, at the Tuesday night ceremonies.

Mayor De Jesus, an especially enthusiastic first generation American states: "I am pleased to be here in the United States. I am pleased with the fact that what I had heard about America is what I did find. And I am fascinated by the fact that an immigrant could become elected to an office such as mayor."

Mayor De Jesus and wife Angela have six children, Adrian, Dorian, Gina, Anton, Marissa and Elena, who is a student at El Dorado High School.

Other events in the city's Golden Anniversary celebration will include the official Ball, sponsored by the Junior Round Table and scheduled for the Alta Vista Country Club Friday night, December 3.

Do Not Open For 50 Years

Placentia's official celebration of its 50th birthday will be highlighted by the burial of a Time Capsule at 10 a.m. Thursday morning, December 2, the actual birthdate of the city.

The ceremony, with city officials participating, will take place in Bradford Park in the front yard of the Bradford House. The Heritage Home is situated on old Palm Drive between Kraemer Boulevard and Bradford Avenue.

The public is invited to attend the event.

Among items expected to be buried in the capsule for the next 50 years are a supply of the city's Bicentennial Medallions, special anniversay editions of the two local newspapers, including the Placentia Courier; the Orange County phone books; a brochure commemorating the dedication of the new Civic Center; a letter from Mayor George De Jesus to His Honor in the year 2026; the city's general plan; a copy of the city budget; some pennies and some coupons for the local McDonalds good 50 years from now.

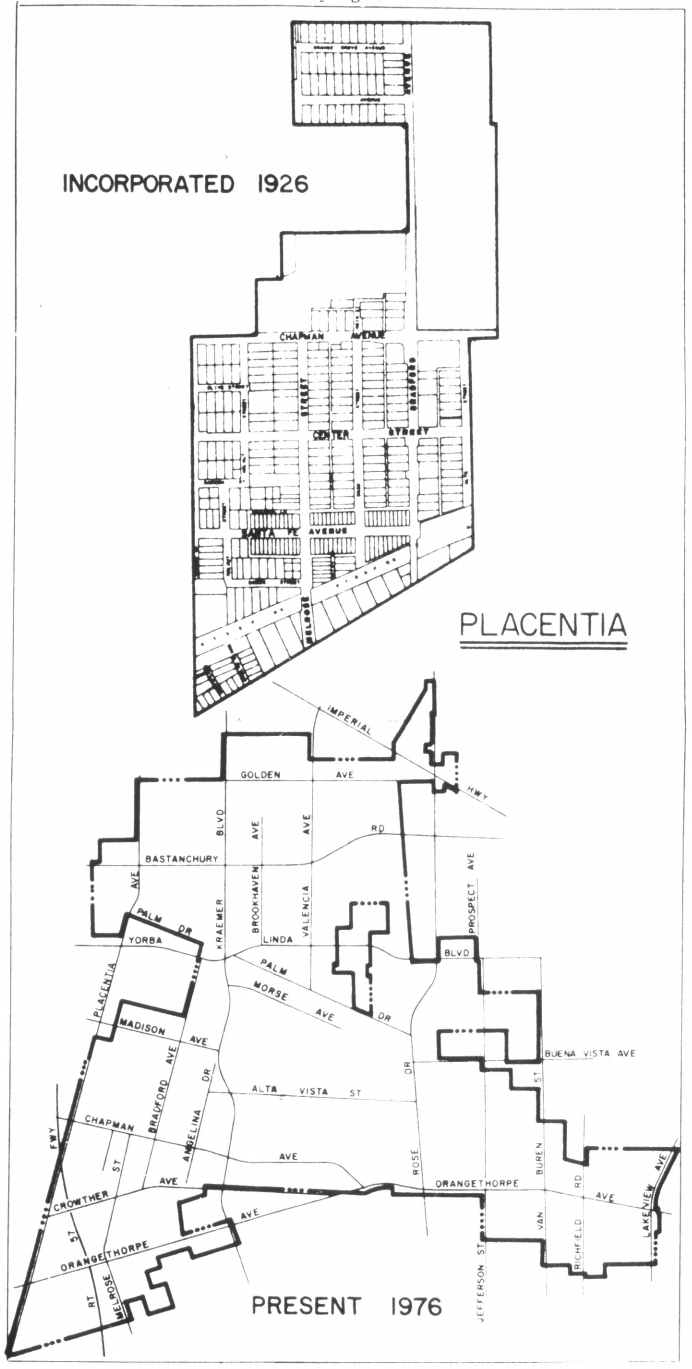
The little city that began 50 years ago with 169 yes votes and 105 no and a population of 800, contented itself within 117 acres or .16 square miles.

According to research by authoress Virginia Carpenter, the city's assessed valuation at that time was two million dollars; the tax rate $1 per $100 assessed valuation. The fledgling city's budget was $9,500 for the year.

Things have changed a little in 50 years. The city is seven square miles, the population 31,281 and the tax rate has inched up to $1.22 per $100 assessed valuation.

And that assessed valuation is now $112 million and the budget has galloped to $6,511,316.

But it's all secondary this week. What this point in time will be remembered for is the city's 50th Happy Birthday.



Christmas Party At Redeemer

There will be special music at the Christmas Party under planning by the Redeemer Lutheran Church Women.

The party will be held at 7 p.m. Thursday, December 9 at the church in Placentia.

Members will bring canned goods or staples for Lutheran Social Services and a gift to exchange, either home made items or food.

The 1976 board members will serve as hostesses.

Gift Wrap Survey —Public Invited

A recent El Dorado PTA board meeting formulated plans for a product survey for Hallmark Company gift wrap.

The survey is set for December 2nd in the High School library from 2 p.m. to 3 p.m. Monies received will benefit the PTA scholarship fund.

The survey takes approximately 10 to 15 minutes and includes looking over new gift wraps and filling in a short questionnaire.

Fifty cents will go directly to the EDHS PTA for each questionnaire completed. Everyone from the community is cordially invited.

The board meeting was held in the Home Economics room where an advanced cooking class served lunch. Eileen Miller, president, dispensed with minutes and other business to allow time for a report on a trip taken by Eileen Miller, Viola Ferrara and Diane McManis, to view new projects at Azusa and Duarte High Schools. The trip was in conjunction with other teachers, parents and students from the district's four high schools.

Following the report, Jerry Jertberg, principal, conducted a tour of the El Dorado facility for the interested board members. January 13, 1977 is the next scheduled board meeting.

Seniors Plan Christmas Celebration

The Placentia Senior Citizens Club will hold a Christmas Dance on Thursday, Dec. 16 from 7 to 10 p.m. in the Backs Community Building, 201 N. Bradford, Placentia.

Les Rogers will play "Memory Lane" music from the big band era. Dress will be formal and semi-formal. Refreshments will be served. Admission will be a $1 donation.

Persons 50 years of age and over are invited and the club cordially invites senior citizens from surrounding communities, the organization reports.

Construction Of Two Homes Approved

Unanimous approval was given by the Placentia Planning Commission for the construction of two single family homes on the northeast corner of Madison and Bradford Avenues, across the street from the Valencia High School fields.

The applicant for the buildings is American Centerline, Inc. of Brea.

Each of the homes will be set on large lots and contain four bedrooms.

CSA Returns

The Quad City Crime Prevention Unit's Community Service Aides (CSA) have moved back to Placentia, it was reported this week.

They will be available to do volunteer home security checks and make recommendations as to how residents can better secure their homes against intruders.

The CSAs will also offer to engrave a few of the residents' valuables with their California driver's license number to facilitate recovery if the items are stolen.

The Quad City Crime Prevention Unit is a federally funded, one-year program which encompasses the cities of La Habra, Yorba Linda and Brea, as well as Placentia.

If you have any questions or would like to make an appointment for a free home security check, call 993-8225.

Registration

Registrations are being accepted for the Raquetball classes sponsored by the Placentia Recreation Department.

The classes are open to both youths and adults and will be held on Saturday mornings at the El Dorado High School Courts.
